Plea for Drainage Support Ignored

Ebersoldt Fails to Get Levee Board on Record for State Aid

An effort by William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice to place the East Side Levee and Sanitary district board of trustees on record as fully supporting state sponsorship of the long-standing hillside drainage program was ignored by other members in a regular board meeting at East St. Louis yesterday.

Ebersoldt, a Madison county trustee of the levee district, tried three times to put to the board a motion that the levee board inform state officials of its willingness to "cooperate 100%." In the state-sponsored move to initiate a hillside drainage program in the Madison-St. Clair county area.

The motion failed to receive a second in all three instances. Joseph Grant of Granite City, the other Madison county member of the five-man levee board, was absent. Members present were Board President Lawrence Tolar and Trustees Morris Campbell and George Duff, all of East St. Louis.

Wants Job Done
Tolar at one point during Ebersoldt's discussion of the drainage program, which has been a much-discussed but inactive project for more than 30 years, remarked, "I am not getting the job done, regardless of who does it," and he referred later to the fact that the "levee board was the sponsor of the project."

Ebersoldt also noted that at this point the state's action "is only in the talking stage" and said the levee district doesn't need either the drainage system, once developed, would be turned over to the levee district for maintenance "or just that part we would play in it."

"I realize that the levee board was the original sponsor of the project," Ebersoldt told the board, "but the state has a means of getting the work done. . . I believe that the board should offer its full support of the project. . . we have, including assistance of our engineering staff if need be."

Ebersoldt added that "I would like to see the board go on record, and I would like to make that a motion, if that is necessary."

Says Motion Unnecessary
"I don't think it is necessary," Tolar replied. A. J. Kraemer, chief engineer of the levee district, remarked that "the board has been working with them anyway, because we have much of the easements and right-of-way they would need. I don't think there is any question that we would work with them."

Ebersoldt replied, "Everyone I have talked with about it (state participation in the project) seems very happy about it, and I still believe it would be a nice gesture for us to go on record offering our help. . . I think it would give them more friendly feeling and possibly move the project along a little faster."

Record high interest in absentee balloting, another substantial increase over last year's election, is being reported by election officials at heated contests for offices at national, state, district and county level indicate an almost certain record vote in the Nov. 5 election in the Quad-Cities and Madison county.

Miss Eulalia Holt, Madison county clerk, reported that a record absentee vote by Madison county persons in the armed forces is indicated by interest shown by such absentee voters, although they still have 30 days in which to file applications for absentee ballots.

Miss Holt said that her office has received 132 applications from absentee voters in service since the period opened June 29. She said this is an unusually large number of applications and that the number should grow even heavier as the deadline — Oct. 31 — grows near.

Oct. 31 is the last day on which applications for absentee ballots may be made by either voters in U.S. service or civilian voters who plan to be out of the county on election day.

GC Council Ok's Redistrict Plan With 7 Wards

Public Asked to Urge Council to Call Referendum

(Related Story Page 28)

A citizens committee seeking an election to reduce Granite City council representation to one alderman a ward is urging the public to contact council members about their delay in scheduling a referendum.

Warren L. Decatur, chairman of the committee which circulated petitions for the election, said no decision has been made on whether to file suit against the city to compel it to act.

He commented today that the citizens' committee "takes a dim view of the 11-to-4 obstructive vote to not designate polling places for the electorate to express their wishes in the polls on Nov. 5."

"Allowing the electorate to vote Nov. 5 would greatly reduce the cost to the city and would clearly define if we are going to have seven aldermen or 15 aldermen after the April 1969 election."

Council 'Creating' Confusion
"The city council indicates by their vote that they wish to delay the vote until April 1969 and at the same time elect seven aldermen for four years and carry eight aldermen for two years."

"This is really excellent thinking to create more confusion and to perpetuate themselves for two more years."

"The council is too large to be effective and is creating confusion which has impeded progress in the city by having two aldermen serve each ward. This creates an undesirable overlapping of authority and duplication of responsibility."

1800 Sought Election
Three bedrooms were ransacked. Entry was gained after 5:30 p.m. by prying the rear door with a half-inch wide flat tool.

Two Extra Aldermen

It was noted that the council probably will have two extra at-large aldermen after next April's election.

By residence, Moerlein would be in the Fifth Ward, where Nomm and Basarich are the aldermen. The terms of Moerlein and Nomm expire in 1971, and just last May Nomm announced his planned retirement at the end of his current term.

Mr. Stearns, whose term expires next year, remains in the First Ward. Four of the present aldermen reside in the six second ward — the present aldermen Rutledge and Bartoski, and Whitmer of the Fourth and Jarrett of the Seventh.

The terms of Bartoski and Rutledge expire next year. Rutledge announced this week he plans to run for the office of mayor next year, provided Mayor Partney is not a candidate for re-election.

In the Third Ward, Boyd and Poulos would be undisturbed. Poulos' term expires next year. Fourth Ward Alderman Green's term continues into 1971, and Robertson of the Seventh Ward and Nomm in the new Fourth Ward. His term expires next April.

None of the present Sixth and Eighth Ward aldermen would be relocated. The terms of Aldermen Fry (Sixth) and John Jarrett (Eighth) expire next year.

Final Action is Due Before Nov. 5 Deadline; Only 2 Oppose Plan

Granite City council members voted 14-to-2 Monday night to proceed with a seven-ward districting plan submitted by Alderman Bartoski, with final action expected before the court-imposed Nov. 5 deadline to eliminate one ward.

Final action can be taken at either the Oct. 21 or 28 or the Nov. 4 meetings. City Atty. Allen is to draw up the ordinance setting forth the new boundaries.

Bartoski, who said he and a group of aldermen had prepared the map over the weekend, submitted two copies to the council for study.

Generally, the proposed re-map would add the southern part of the First and Third Wards to the Fifth Ward, with the Second Ward giving a portion of the East Granite area to the Third Ward but picking up a major section of the Seventh Ward including Wilson Park and a small portion of the Nameoki area.

The remainder of the Seventh Ward is to be added to the Fourth Ward, which would lose a section bounded by a section of the Nameoki area to the northeast to the Eighth Ward.

7th Ward Eliminated
With the present Seventh Ward divided between the Second and Fourth Wards, the present Eighth Ward is to be redesignated the Seventh.

The present Sixth Ward would range from 1911 in the Third Ward to the Bellemore Village area to the Fourth Ward.

Striving to equalize population, the new wards would range from 1947 in the First Ward to 6072 in the new Seventh. Estimated populations are 5601 in the First Ward, 5451 in the Second, 5451 in the Third, 5779 in the Fourth, 5681 in the Fifth, 5727 in the Sixth and 6072 in the Seventh.

Only votes against the redistricting plan were by Moerlein of the First Ward and Jarrett of the Seventh.

Two Extra Aldermen
It was noted that the council probably will have two extra at-large aldermen after next April's election.

By residence, Moerlein would be in the Fifth Ward, where Nomm and Basarich are the aldermen. The terms of Moerlein and Nomm expire in 1971, and just last May Nomm announced his planned retirement at the end of his current term.

CD Exercise Proposed For Key City Officials

The Granite City Civil Defense Advisory Council gave CD Director Victor H. Koenig the go-ahead signal to start preparations for a special training exercise to be staged early next year, involving local city officials and emergency operation of municipal services.

The action was taken at an advisory council meeting, held Tuesday afternoon in the Granite City CD headquarters, 1411 Nineteenth street. Council members also learned that all phases of civil defense training must be updated and expanded during 1969.

Koenig recommended arranging an operating center training exercise for key municipal personnel, which would provide simulated experiences in techniques to be followed in the event normal routine procedures are halted due to emergency conditions.

He reported witnessing a similar disaster preparation test held last weekend at Marion, Ill., for city and county officials in Williamson county. "The operation ran very smoothly and appeared to be beneficial," he said.

The civil defense director pointed out that the entire exercise would take place within a three-hour period under the direct supervision of University of Illinois Extension Service specialists. Koenig said he expects to gain further information on the proposed test when he participates this weekend as an observer in the Missouri Civil Defense Directors' Association exercise in St. Louis. Auxiliary Police Chief John Becker told board members that several new auxiliaries recently were inducted into the police group and Harold Mayfield, CD training officer, asked that a flexible schedule of classes be planned for next year, pointing out that additional sessions must be held in Shelter Management, Medical Self-Help and Radiological Monitoring to comply with state and federal directives.

Koenig said that despite a cutback in federal spending for civil defense purposes at the national level, little or no effect is expected to be felt this year by local organizations. Budget cuts in the federal government's community shelter planning survey are expected to delay the project at least three years, he explained.

It was reported that 37 public shelter areas in Granite City, comprising more than 12,000 individual shelter spaces, are now equipped with supplies in hand at the Granite City Army Depot waiting to be transferred into the school building, the director said.

Collinsville to Use Levee Dist. Sewage System
A revised agreement between the city of Collinsville and the East Side Levee and Sanitary district for Collinsville participation in the levee district sewage treatment program, move that eventually may result in a reduction of sewer rental fees for residents of Madison and Venice—was authorized by the levee district board in a meeting yesterday.

The levee board authorized its attorney, John Sprague of Belleville, and the Horner & Shiffrin engineering firm of St. Louis to update plans for connection of proposed new Collinsville sewer lines with the levee district trunkline carrying sewage into the Lansdowne treatment plant on the East St. Louis riverfront.

The action was taken after Sprague told the board he had met recently with Collinsville officials who have decided to expand the city's sewer system and use the levee district treatment plant as a means of disposal. The original contract between Collinsville and the levee district was agreed upon three years ago when the city planned to hook into the levee district system.

Rejected Bond Issue
Later, however, Collinsville residents rejected a bond issue proposal necessary to build new sewer lines. Collinsville officials thereafter made several unsuccessful efforts to nullify the agreement with the levee district.

The original program provided for sewage facilities for a number of communities, including Madison, Venice, Fairmont, City, Washington Park, the stockyards area and Collinsville.

The project was financed with revenue bonds and rental fees originally were estimated at 90 cents per month for participating sewer users, including Venice and Madison residents. Collinsville withdrew from the project, however, because of the referendum rejecting bond funds. As a result, loss of anticipated rental revenue from Collinsville caused an increase of rental fees to $1.15 per month, graduating upward on the basis of water volume used, for Venice and Madison sewer users.

The levee board also authorized Sprague to modify the district's agreement with Collinsville on the basis of new plans eventually drawn by Horner & Shiffrin. Sprague told the Press-Record that a reduction of rental fees for the Madison and Venice area cannot be determined until construction plans for the Collinsville sewer connection, which would be built from Route 157 to a point near State Park Place, are revised.

He pointed out that rental fee schedules are based on construction costs and that if the

The new officers are James King, president; Mrs. Freida Hurst, vice-president; Ollie Wiest, secretary; Bob Keeton, secretary-treasurer; Jim Reynolds, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Delores Keeton and Mrs. Eleanor Gafford with Parker Hurst to serve as trustees.

Mrs. Freida Hurst, the retiring president, conducted the business session.

A report on the Youth Panel was made by Ronnie Keeton, who said a movie will be shown during a forthcoming meeting, and the panel will discuss the subject following the movie, with audience participation.

Mrs. Hurst announced the annual dinner will be held in November for the newly-elected officers.

Also planned was a Halloween teen dance on Oct. 25. Ronnie Keeton will serve as chairman.

Sewer Plans for State Park Place To be Ready Soon

Updated plans for construction of sewer lines in State Park Place are expected to be completed before the end of this month, Nameoki Supervisor Harry Briggs reported to the regular meeting of the Nameoki town board Tuesday night.

Briggs said a public meeting of residents in the area will be called as soon as plans are ready to discuss further steps toward installation of sewer lines for the district.

Cost estimates are unavailable until the new plans are completed by Homer & Shifrin, engineering firm, which is revising sewer plans originally prepared several years ago for the entire Nameoki township area by H. W. Lachner & Co.

Briggs said the plans will call for construction of sewer lines that would connect with the Canton township area which hooks into the Lanesdowne sewage treatment plant built and operated by the East Side Levee and Sanitary district. Steps to revise the sewer plans for the State Park Place area were taken after discussions several months ago with a representative of the Housing and Urban Development Agency indicated a possibility of federal funds for such a project, Briggs said.

Plan Revenue Financing
The plans will involve no treatment facilities, but would be financed on a revenue basis with a use fee paid to the levee district for sewage treatment at the district's Lanesdowne treatment plant which also serves Madison and Venice.

Other business in Tuesday night's town meeting was of routine nature. Briggs reported he had invested $15,000 in special road funds in a 90-day time savings certificate to draw interest until the money is needed for operational expenditures.

Briggs said a special meeting with Township Atty. Nick Vassiloff will be held soon by town board members to discuss pending litigation in several cases filed by the township. These include reference to the state's attorney's office of a drainage problem in the Angela drive area where a drainage pond presents a health problem

Program in Humanities In Madison Curriculum

Madison high school is implementing a new program in the humanities for gifted students under the direction of Miss Marguerite Connole and the first lecture in series will be conducted at noon Monday at the school.

MHS students will attend the play on that date with an advance insight, Miss Connole said.

The program, developed by John Falchett, curriculum director for the school district, will deal with literature, music, art and other cultural aspects of life, and the group will attend various performances in the metropolitan area through the school year.

Two classes were formed after students were tested. The program supplants regular English classes and will help prepare the students for college life, Miss Connole said.

MHS Sophs Launch Campaign with 46-0 Victory Over Triad

The Madison Trojan sophomore football team played the first game of its delayed season at home Monday evening, beating the Triad Knights 46-0 as Harry Boyd scored four touchdowns and gained 175 yards in rushing.
The quarter scores were 14-0, 27-0 and 34-0.
On the first play of the game, after Triad kicked off to Madison, Austin Lewis tossed a touchdown pass to P. J. Davis for 28 yards. The field position had been set up by a 40-yard runback of the kickoff by Davis. Boyd ran the extra point.
After Madison kept Triad deep in its own territory on the return kickoff, the visitors were forced to punt to the Trojans. After the local squad took over on its 48, Davis and Boyd picked up first downs preceding a 12-yard touchdown run by Boyd.
The third touchdown was a pass play from Lewis to Davis that covered 45 yards in the air and a total of 75 yards. Lewis scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak.
Boyd scored the next touchdown on a 70-yard run, and Davis ran the next on a reverse, going for 59 yards. Boyd struck next again on a 20-yard run and then made the last TD on a 50-yard run on a power play off right guard. Cecil Tomlin ran the extra point.

MORE ABOUT Plea For

would cost an estimated $13 millions and would be financed in part by federal funds if local matching monies are available. More than $6 million in U.S. funds have been allocated for the project, and renewed from year-to-year, but the levee district which formerly assumed sponsorship of the project has had no means of meeting local funding requirements.
Gov. Shapiro said that legislation to appropriate necessary matching funds will be given to the next session of the Illinois Legislature in January.

Have No Money

Levee district officials have admitted repeatedly that it has no hope of obtaining public approval of a bond referendum that would provide the funds necessary to carry out the project. It has pinned its hopes on obtaining legislation directly authorizing such a bond issue without a referendum.

Meanwhile Colonel Edwin R. Decker, St. Louis district engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers, said preconstruction planning for the project could get underway as soon as he is officially notified that the state will take over sponsorship of the program.

Col. Decker estimated that a hillside drainage project necessary to control interior flooding of the area would take from seven to eight years for completion. A survey report on the proposal was prepared by the Army engineers in 1962, but it would have to be updated considerably, he said.

Bartosik replied he had been unable to get all of the committees together over the weekend, but that the plan was worked out by a group of aldermen. The Redistricting committee had been composed of the eight aldermen whose terms expire next year.

Fry who had filed the mandamus suit resulting in the court order for redistricting, said he would rather see the city do it instead of having the court move in. Moerlin commented the new lines still would not solve the conflict in varying lines for precincts.

FREDMAN BROS. 54th FOUNDER'S DAY SALE!

As Soon as You Walk Through Our Front Door ... YOU'RE OUR GUEST!

No matter whether you're "JUST BROWSING" for furniture, bedding, carpeting or appliances, or just looking for decorating ideas and advice... we want you to feel completely at home. Stroll leisurely through area after area and discover magnificent displays of everything for the home... discover correlated room groupings... discover our unusual low prices... discover our easy-payment Family Budget Plan... discover, too, our famous "Customer-Satisfying-Service"! Yes, be our Guest!

54 years ago three young brothers, Dave, Harry and Neil Fredman founded a small furniture store in Collinsville, Ill. They had in mind a family business that would grow just as their families grew, through the years. For this reason they established the following business policy and ideals which they have maintained throughout the years:

"To Build a Store That Will Be a Credit To The Community Which It Serves, To Foster a Fine Relationship Between The Store, Customer, Co-workers and Suppliers, To Maintain And Always Sell Merchandise at The Lowest Possible Price. To Understate Rather Than Exaggerate In Advertising and Selling. To Consider No Transaction Closed Until The Article Purchased Has Rendered Satisfaction. To Measure Success Only By The Service Which It Is Able To Render Its Customers."

These were the policies originally set forth by the 3 founders. These are still the ideals adhered to by themselves, their children who are now part of the business and by all their employees no matter what position they hold. We feel that these are the policies and ideals that have enabled Fredman Bros. to become the largest furniture chain in Illinois.

Scroggins Strikes at Record of Opponent

Leon G. Scroggins, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, again cited his record in a speech today and attacked that of his Republican opponent, R. W. Griffith.

Scroggins said statistics show that his office has tried more felony cases than any prior state's attorney in the county and that the conviction rate is higher, despite recent Supreme Court decisions which have severely hampered the prosecution of criminal cases.

In challenging Griffith's experience in the trial of criminal cases, he said the files of the circuit clerk disclose that Griffith has handled seven felony cases. He tried three and lost two, Scroggins said.

"Of the other four criminal cases, Griffith's 'weak sister' pleaded guilty and asked probation," Scroggins said. "If probation is such a 'weak sister' attitude as Griffith talks about, how could he request probation on behalf of a criminal?"

Town Claims of $9466 Approved

Township bills totaling $9466 for the first half of October and a report by Supervisor Nelson Hagauer listing fund balances at the end of last month were approved by the Granite City council sitting as the town board Monday night.

In a brief session lasting only a few minutes, the board approved claims of $4806 payable out of the town fund, and bills of $4600 to be paid out of the general assistance fund.

Hagauer reported that town fund expenditures during September amounted to $369, leaving an Oct. 1 balance of $18,149 in that fund. He said September disbursements in the general assistance fund amounted to $8636, leaving a balance of $59,312. The general assistance fund also has $100,000 invested in a six-month savings bond certificate, he reported.

Expenditures out of the town fund for the first half of October included $187 in salary for Hagauer as supervisor, and salary of $320 for Assessor James Barton. Clerical salaries totaled $942.

Expenses for the supervisor, town clerk, assessor, treasurer and township attorney to attend the annual township officials convention later in the month amounted to $875. Payments to deputy assessors totaled $852. Town fund claims also included $300 in per diem payments to city council members serving as town board members during September.

Salary payments out of the general assistance fund amounted to $925. Rent payments for assistance clients totaled $165 and claims for medical supplies amounted to $167. Bills totaling $77 for physicians services also were approved. Claims for food orders for recipients amounted to $278.

Census Bureau to Seek School Enrollment Data

Information to determine how many children and adults under 35 are enrolled either in school or college will be sought here the week of Oct. 14, Director Theodore F. Olson of the regional office of the U. S. Office of the Census in Chicago announced today.

Questions are asked of householders each year at this time to update national figures on enrollment in public, private and special schools; full- and part-time college attendance; the number of high school graduates and dropouts; and the last year of regular schooling for non-high school graduates.

The questions to be asked here are in addition to those that the Census Bureau asks each month to obtain data for use by the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics in determining national employment figures.

The survey will be taken simultaneously throughout the U. S. from a representative sample of the nation's households. Answers are confidential, and the information obtained will be used for statistical purposes only.

Vocational Education Bill Cited by Price

Final congressional approval of the omnibus vocational education bill was cited today by Rep. Melvin Price, (D), East St. Louis, "as one of the great legislative victories" of the 90th Congress.

The legislation, now awaiting President Johnson's signature, "opens the way," according to Cong. Price, "for many areas like ours to develop a comprehensive vocational education facility and curricula to meet individual needs as they relate to the overall job market."

Rep. Price, a co-sponsor of the legislation, said he has contacted Illinois Gov. Shapiro about the location of a vocational education school in the Madison-St. Clair counties area. A leader for such an institution in the area, the ranking House Democrat indicated that he would be making further contacts with local, state and federal officials about the school.

2 Sets of Brothers in Today's 'Mail Call'

Two sets of brothers are among the local servicemen whose names and addresses appear today in "Yule Mail Call." Additional addresses will be published as they become available.

Parents, relatives, friends, church and service groups, or other individuals and clubs are invited to submit the names and addresses of Quad-City military personnel, serving at home or abroad, to the third annual "Yule Mail Call" pre-Christmas service sponsored by the newspaper.

To ensure accuracy, persons wishing to include a serviceman or woman on the lists to be published in subsequent issues are asked to mail the individual's name, rank, serial number and full address, including APO or FPO when applicable, to Yule Mail Call, Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Avenue, or bring the information written on a slip of paper to the newspaper office.

Mrs. Marie Dunnivant, 2009 Troy street, Madison, submitted the names of her two sons, both serving overseas.

Marine Sgt. David L. Dunnivant presently is with the Motor Transport Section of the Third Marines, near Dong Hoi, Vietnam, while his brother, Specialist Four Larry E. Dunnivant, is on duty in Okinawa with the 58th Heavy Equipment Maintenance Co.

Larry's name appeared in the 1967 version of Yule Mail Call, when the Madison soldier was serving in Alaska.

Also appearing in today's list are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scharf, 2822 Palmer Avenue.

Specialist Four Alan Scharf who is serving with the Third Armored Division Artillery in Germany and Specialist Five Robert Scharf, who with his wife, the former Dolores Cook of Granite City, is stationed near Poulasbo, Wash.

Those submitting the names of servicemen are asked to identify themselves on the postal card or letter in the event verification is necessary of complex unit abbreviations. If the area of service is noted, it will appear in parenthesis following the official address.

It is hoped through Yule Mail Call to cheer local servicemen who are away from home during the coming holiday season by asking Quad-Cityans to add the Armed Forces personnel to their Christmas mailing lists.

Press-Record's ... Yule Mail Call (Clip and Save)

Quad-City servicemen and women stationed around the world, whose names and addresses are being published in each issue of the Press-Record as a special pre-Christmas public service. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear. Local residents are invited to include the servicemen on their Christmas mailing lists and send greeting cards, letters or packages, thereby helping to brighten the coming holiday season for military personnel who are away from their homes and families. Early mailing is recommended.

Inspection Set For Out-State Haulers

Licensing and inspection of out-of-state haulers who dump refuse in Madison county will be conducted next Wednesday and Thursday at the Mal Land fill on Chopteau Island, Acting Sanitation Officer Paul Hawkins has announced at Edwardsville.

The truckers must pay a $5 fee for the permit and a similar fee for the inspection. Associate Circuit Judge Foss Meyer of Bond county ruled recently that Madison county's attempt to assess a $100 fee against out-of-state truckers was "illegal and unenforceable."

Hawkins said that currently 102 Illinois trucks have been licensed and inspected and 86 Missouri haulers have been inspected. He said that approximately 220 Missouri trucks have not been licensed nor inspected and that the 86 trucks already inspected still have not paid the permit fee.

He said failure to obtain licenses will result in a crackdown by county officials and possible arrest of truckers ignoring the regulations.

Ahead in League Play, MHS Hosts Non-Conference Mater Dei Eleven

The Madison high school Trojan football team, which has won two games after losing its first two, will entertain the Mater Dei Knights of Breese Friday for a non-conference game at the MHS field.

Now atop the Midwestern Conference standings—MHS and Dupo have 2-0 records—the Trojans will have a lull in league play until Oct. 24, when they will begin a series of three conference contests.

The Trojans opened the season by being blanked by O'Fallon 27-0 and then by Rosary of St. Louis 25-0.

Since then, Madison has notched two Midwestern Conference victories, 74-0 against Highland and 32-24 against Triad.

Victors Over Greenville

The Knights, who are entering their second year of varsity grid competition, finished last year with a record of 3-6. So far this season, the relatively inexperienced squad has registered one win, over Greenville 27-0, tied Gillespie 12-12, and lost to two powerhouses, Belleville East by 49-0 and O'Fallon by 35-13.

Coach Dan Hopcus reports that his Knights are "still a little roughed up from last week's game against Belleville East," a team which he calls the best he has ever seen.

"Because of the pounding we took, we may have to make some last-minute changes in our starting lineup, and it is definitely going to have some effect on the outcome of the game."

33-14 Game In 1967

Last year, Madison beat the Knights 33-14 at the losers' field.

Dwayne Shaw, 175-pound MHS sophomore halfback, has caught the attention of Coach Hopcus, who says he "is really tough and a fine ball player. After gaining over 100 yards last week against Triad and the week before turning in an unbelievable 247 yards, he has got to be considered an excellent ball carrier."

Mater Dei is not without outstanding players, however.

of 347 yards so far this season.

Right End Leroy Kruep, a 180-pound senior end, has caught 11 of his passes.

"When a team thinks we are going to pass to Kruep, we switch around and go the other way to a 180-pound junior, Ron Striker," the coach relates.

3-Way Ground Offense

Other backfield men for the Knights, Rick Gerner, Henry Hummert and Dale Peak, have all averaged about three yards a carry, just enough of a running threat to keep opponents from concentrating excessively on pass defense.

The Trojans, Coach Alvin Vonder Haar reports, also "have been trying to play an equally balanced game, not letting the defense be sure of what we're going to do with the ball."

The Trojans are making no changes in their lineup. They have been lucky and not had any severe injuries.

Jim Scott, 165-pound senior, will start at quarterback, working with Shaw, Harold James, 200-pound junior left halfback, and Dale Clinton, 180-pound junior fullback.

In the air, Eddie Hilton, 185-pound senior end, has been a frequent target for Scott.

Warriors Wonder—Will Wood River Field Be Scene of Their First Win?

What the Granite City high school Fighting Warriors football team can expect Friday evening at Wood River is more of a question now than earlier in the season.

"Because of our many fumbles last week it was more like a scrimmage than a football game," he adds.

"We really didn't get much of a chance to see what our offense could do with the ball."

Offensively, the Oilers have a junior, 155-pound Roy Morris, at quarterback. He has tossed four touchdown passes and run for five himself.

In the season opener against Bethalto Civic Memorial, Morris faked a handoff and ran 86 yards for a touchdown.

Granite City will use Roger Beltshe at quarterback, Jim Greenwald, the team's leading scorer, at fullback, and Don Haddix and Jim Rollins at the halfback positions.

Greenwald, a junior 198-pounder, has been gaining 5.5 yards a carry, mostly through the middle of the line.

When Beltshe isn't quarterbacking, Dave Evans, a junior 136-pounder, handles the job.

Last week he saw considerable duty when Beltshe played end and halfback.

Beltshe was effective with a halfback pass to an end who had gone out for a "long bomb."

On the ends this week are scheduled to be Dave Melzer, 165-pound junior, and Roger Laws, 166-pound senior.

Completes 25 of 36 Passes

Morris has thrown the ball 36 times and completed 25, four to Flanker Back Darryl Haynes, 145-pound senior, who has one touchdown.

DeGieria has averaged 5.8 yards a carry, and Jim Clossadelle, 158-pound junior, has averaged four yards.

Laymen's Day to be Observed on Sunday

Laymen's Day will be observed in the morning worship services at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church Sunday, Marvin VanMetre, adult program director of the YMCA, and Lay Leader of Niedringhaus Church, will direct the service.

This annual observance of Laymen's Day will provide an opportunity for worship under the complete direction of the Lay Leader and his assistants. A change in the normal form of worship is planned and an effort will be made for a greater congregational involvement in these worship services.

The day's theme is, "The Urgent Fellowship." In addition to Mr. VanMetre, other participants will include Bill Simpkins and James I. Williams Jr. The Youth Choir will sing in the 8:30 a.m. service and the adult Chancel Choir will present the anthem for the 10:40 worship service. Warren G. Simpkins will direct both of the choirs.

In the evening worship hour at 7:30, the sermon will be delivered by the minister, Rev. R. Paul Sims. This informal evening service will be concluded, with a period of altar prayers.

Drills, Inspections Mark Fire Prevention Program

Inspection of schools and business locations, fire drills in the schools and demonstrations of the use of firefighting equipment are under way throughout the Quad-City area in observance of Fire Prevention Week which will end Saturday.

Area-wide school inspections have been a major phase of the observance in Granite City, Madison, Venice and the Long Lake and Mitchell fire districts, as well as the distribution of fire prevention booklets and other literature.

Granite City firemen also have made a thorough inspection of the condition of all fire-plugs in the city, according to Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger. Granite City firemen demonstrated use of the aerial ladder truck at Emerson school Tuesday afternoon, at the request of school officials who said the children evinced an interest in seeing the equipment operate.

Inspect Business Houses
Business inspections were made early in the week by fire department officials in Granite City, Madison and Venice, authorities reported.

At Madison, firemen conducted fire drills in all schools and kept records of the time required to evacuate all school buildings. Fire Chief Edward J. Miller said 720 students at the Madison senior high school cleared the building in one minute, 36 seconds, while 526 students at Harris school were out in 50 seconds. At St. Mary's school, 250 students evacuated the building in 45 seconds and 400 students at Louis's Baer school were out in 32 seconds.

Jack Harper, chief of the Long Lake Fire department at Mitchell, said firemen inspected Stalling school, conducted fire drills there and distributed fire prevention literature. A similar program was conducted at Mitchell school by the Mitchell fire department.

FIREMAN ATOP Granite City's 85-foot aerial ladder not only gave a demonstration of the fire truck versatility for pupils of Emerson school, but he spotted and retrieved for the youngsters a long-lost tennis ball which he sighted in the gutter. Use of the Fire Prevention Week program conducted by the Granite City Fire department.

Storm Water Sewer Construction

City Wants Faster Sidewalk Replacement

A speed-up in the replacement of sidewalks and driveways removed for new storm water drainage lines was ordered Monday night by Granite City council members, who called upon the project engineer to relay the information to the contractor, S. M. Wilson & Co.

The request was made by Second Ward Alderman Whitmer, who said residents in the 2200 block of Washington avenue and along Monroe street were being greatly inconvenienced.

Alderman Bartosiak, also of the Second Ward and chairman of the Special Sewer committee, said he had talked to the contractor earlier that day and had been advised of a shortage of laborers in the area. "We can go ahead with the request," he said, "but the contractor has advised me he is hoping to get more workmen on the job as early as possible this week."

Bartosiak also reported the matter of an easement for sanitary sewerage at Johnson road had been arranged. "There was just a mix-up concerning the easement at the property of Grace Land General Baptist Church at 2033 Johnson road," he said.

Adjustment Sought

Referred to the city attorney was a letter from John Campbell of No. 2 Mercer drive, who requested an adjustment from the city for use of his property for a storm water sewer line.

for which he said an easement was not obtained. No action was taken by the council on a state highway proposal made in August 1967 for a 60-inch drainage line from Namirook road along Spring or Primrose avenue to the drainage ditch, provided the city pay $15,000 of the cost. Originally a 48-inch line was planned by the state in connection with the Nameoki road improvement north of Pontion road, extending to Mitchell.

Eighty Ward aldermen expressed concern over possible overloading the drainage ditch and asked for a study.

Street Excavation Controls

Council members called for strict enforcement of the city ordinance controlling street excavations by utilities. The city law specifies posting a $500 performance bond and a $2 fee for each excavation.

The enforcement was demanded, as the council discussed requests for 18 water main excavations in scattered sections of the city, submitted Sept. 23 by East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

Alderman Nenn said he had called upon water company officials to return and correct excavation repairs in the Fifth Ward. "They have no franchise, and it's an injustice to the taxpayers if the streets are not properly prepared."

Council members began to approve the excavations by wards, but the action was halted and blanket approval was given 10-to-6 provided bonds are posted and fees are paid and the street superintendent is notified when pavement replacement is to be carried out.

The city ordinance, it was noted, outlines the proper procedure for filling a street excavation.

Excavation Locations

Locations for the inspection excavations are—1337 Delmar avenue, 1832 State street, Hall street, 25th street, Richmond avenue, 24th street, Hodges avenue, Spring avenue, 14th street, East 23rd and Bromley avenue, Denver at Rock road, Benton street near the ice rink, Terminal avenue, 20th street, Harding blvd. Pershing avenue, in an alley west of Poplar street and at West 22nd and McKinley street.

Another excavation permit was approved for St. Louis Bell Telephone Co. for emergency repairs at 1231 Nineteenth street.

Use study by council members are bids for street department equipment including four proposals for two new dump trucks and one bid for an loader.

O. B. Avery Co., St. Louis, submitted the lone bid of $14,000 to ride end loader for which $10,000 was budgeted.

Bidders on two new dump trucks, with allowances for trade-in of three old trucks, are—Mathews Chevrolet, $7851; B. E. Hohl, Inc., $8049; Farrington Motors, $8327; and Brewer Motor Co., $8885. The city budgeted $7500 for the trucks.

Bids are to be sought for four chain saws for which $1000 has been budgeted.

Approval was given a request from the state highway department for city replacement of 450 gallons of traffic stripe paint which the state used to mark lanes on major streets in the city.

Alderman Robertson called for a legal opinion to determine a method to use parking meter funds to establish off-street parking lots in the downtown area.

Glik's Expanding Bellemore Village Department Store

Glik's Department store in the Bellemore Village shopping center is expanding its sales area by taking over adjacent space formerly occupied by Bob's Flower Shop. The work should be completed within the next two weeks, it was announced by Joseph Glik, president.

An area of 1200 square feet is being renovated. The entire sales area will be carpeted with a blue-green tweed carpet. Fixtures will be finished in platinum walnut and the walls will be covered in colorful print wallpaper.

The additional space will provide for an expanded selling area for men's, boys' and women's apparel.

Tentative plans call for future expansion to the rear within the next two years, providing for an additional 2000 to 4000 square feet of selling area.

Other expansion projects currently under way include enlargement of the Edwardsville store by 2000 square feet, with completion expected by January.

Glik's ninth store and second in the Belleville area is planned for opening next fall. It will be a 5000 square-foot department store located two miles east of the downtown area in the Belleville Plaza center.

Survey for New North-South St. Is Authorized

Use of sales tax funds to survey for creation of a new north-south street from 22nd street to Pontoon road on the east side of the railroad tracks was authorized Monday night by Granite City council members.

Council members expressed hope for eventual refund of the estimated $1000 from state-allocated motor fuel tax funds. In calling for the survey, Alderman Robertson said the engineering would be accomplished by Research Planning & Design Associates. He added that with subdividers and developers allowing for the right-of-way, the city should not have too much difficulty in getting the street built in about two years. Railroads own a portion of the needed right-of-way.

A motion for a resolution to be prepared for the fund transfer was approved 14-to-2, with Fry and Jarrett dissenting. Mayor Parnley remarked that he was certain at least two such surveys already had been made.

No action was taken by council members on a petition requesting one-way, southbound traffic on Adams street between 25th and 27th streets. An oversight was noted for preparation of the ordinance.

Experiment is Started At Training Center

A new instructional approach, designed to accommodate students of all levels of achievement, has been introduced in the curriculum of the Manpower Training and Development Center in East St. Louis. The center is operated by Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

The method grew out of studies and consultations with the Manpower staff by the school's new director, Donald R. Dodson, working cooperatively with another new official, William Garrett, supervisor of vocational training.

Under the new plan, vocational classes will continue indefinitely with new students allowed to enroll at two-week intervals, as opposed to maintaining a specific number of students for a prescribed period of time.

A second change involves moulding basic studies and related subjects to a particular vocation, or allied vocations.

The experiment will begin Monday in new classes on welding and machine operating, the first to meet under the recently approved operating budget of $56,985.

MacZura in Australia, To Return to Vietnam

Roger W. MacZura, ADJ 3, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren MacZura, 3208 Aubrey avenue, this week is winding up an 18-day tour in Australia with members of a Navy P-3A Orion anti-submarine patrol plane.

The local Navy Air Corps jet maintenance specialist who is based at Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam, with Patrol Squad 50, arrived in Australia on Sept. 28, and reports the trip "more like a vacation than duty."

In a letter to his parents, MacZura commented — "The towns we have seen here are 'country-like' with one main street and the people are doing their best to show us a good time." He noted that the weather is like spring and just too much to take after Vietnam."

Upon their return to Cam Ranh Bay next week, the crew of the anti-submarine aircraft will be making final preparations to return to Moffitt Field in California the first part of November. MacZura advised his parents, "I will be HOME for Christmas," he emphasized in his last letter.

MacZura recently observed his 21st birthday in Vietnam. He was graduated in 1965 from Granite City high school and attended Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus for one year prior to joining the U. S. Navy Air Corps in October 1966.

After returning to the U. S., the serviceman expects to be assigned to a flight engineering school for further training and education.

Proposed Boundaries For Seven Wards In Granite City

Granite City Council Votes Down Call for Special City Election on Nov. 5th

While no written challenges were filed in the specified five-day period to object to a special vote on cutting the size of the city council in half, Granite City council members voted Monday night not to prepare a resolution to call a special election with the Nov. 5 general election, preferring to wait for a legal opinion from the Illinois Municipal League.

The deadline for giving of official notice is Oct. 21, and the next council meeting is not until that night. Several aldermen spoke out that they believed the special vote on the issue of having one alderman in each ward instead of two would be better held next April when there is a regular city election. That could stall the reduction for at least another two years, since the outcome would not be known in advance of the election of half the council.

The council two weeks ago had called for a legal opinion from City Atty. Richard Allen concerning the legality of holding a special city election, in which voter registration is not required, at the same time as a general election, when registration is necessary.

Opinion Delayed
Allen said he has written to the Illinois Municipal League for the opinion and has been advised it would not be available until late this week.

Council members readily agreed to wait for the reply. There is no council session next Monday, and most aldermen will be away for the Illinois Municipal League convention in Peoria. They plan to gather at the city hall next Wednesday—not for a council session, but for a public hearing on the new master growth plan for the city.

In his report to the council on the petitions to limit the number of aldermen to one for each ward, Allen said the city clerk has until Oct. 21 to call the special vote for Nov. 5, and that he would "transmit the legal opinion from the Municipal League to the clerk and members of the council the minute I receive it."

Allen pointed out the city clerk could publish the election notice, but it's up to the council to call the special election and select polling places and election judges needed for the election.

Initial discussion of the special election came up under communications proceedings of the council, when Allen's letter to the council was read. It was later, that Alderman Fry submitted a type-written motion for a resolution to be prepared calling the election for Nov. 5 with the township polling places and elections judges designated in the official notice publication.

Council's Vote
The motion was voted down 4-to-1. Favoring the Nov. 5 vote were Rutledge, Fry, Jarrett and Johnson. Opposed were Dallas, Morrison, Bartoski, Whitmer, Boyd, Poulos, Green, Nonn, Parmley, Robertson and Dawes. Basarich was out of the council room when the vote was called.

Also present at the meeting were two citizen proponents of the proposal — Warren Decatur and Dale Arnette. After Allen's letter was read, Fry asked if the notice of the election had to come from the council. City Clerk Pendleton said it would be necessary to list polling places and election judges, "and the council does that."

Allen also said the selection of polling places and judges was up to the council, and that the election notice had to be published 30-to-15 days before the election.

"If we don't act tonight," Fry asked, "there's not time for council action then to get a November election."

Other Opinions
Allen said, "It doesn't take council action to publish the notice, but it's up to the council to call the election." He added that he believed the council could call the election for either November or next April, but that he had been advised by Town Atty. William Schooley was of the opinion it could be held only with a city election.

When Fry pressed again to determine if Monday night was the only time left for the council to act on the issue, Nonn accused Fry of trying to "muddy the waters." He said, "Judge Streeter has ordered us to re-district the city for seven wards, and these petitions call for a limitation of eight aldermen, one to a ward. We can't supersede the judge's order."

Allen replied that Nonn was in error, since the state law provided for just one alderman for each ward under the terms of the statute.

Basarich suggested the election be held at another date in advance of the regular city election — possibly at the city primary.

Urges November Vote
Entering the discussion, Mayor Parnley said that to hold the special vote next April would add to confusion, especially since aldermen are to be elected on the same date. "We should hold the vote in November," he recommended.

Survey of Conservator Reports Sought by Court

An investigation on failure of some conservators of estates to file annual reports with the probate division of circuit court has been ordered by Circuit Judge James O. Monroe and will be conducted by the office of the circuit clerk in Edwardsville.

Monroe, presiding judge in the probate division, has appointed a committee composed of Willard V. Portell, clerk of the circuit court, State's Atty. Leon Scroggins and Moses Harrison of Collinsville, president of the Madison County Bar Association, to present a report on eight specific questions.

Portell has ordered a complete survey of all the records and cases to be conducted by probate clerks, authorizing overtime with pay if necessary to complete the job.

It was noted recently that many conservators of estates of persons who have been declared mentally incompetent have failed to file reports as required by law.

Conservators are appointed by the court to handle, spend and invest assets of incompetents, many of whom are patients in state hospital.

Judge Monroe believes the irregularities to be harmless rather than tragic losses but he asked for court records on conservator reporting, a n y complaints filed on the handling of the cases and laws pertaining to the estates. The questions the judge submitted follow:

In how many cases, if any, have conservators wrongfully or without excuse failed to file timely or proper reports? Is the requirement for reports mandatory or only directory? If reports have not been filed, why not?

Has any incompetent, claimant, relative or other party been harmed or aggrieved by failure to file reports?

Has any aggrieved party made any complaints? Is any action against conservators or their lawyers recommended?

Is any action by the court generally in order? Are the present statutes, rules, administrative orders and arrangements in these matters adequate?

Operating Engineers, SIBA Building Center
Local 520, International Union of Operating Engineers, AFL-CIO, is announcing the establishment of a training school on the property of the Union adjacent to its headquarters at Mitchell.

The training school is the result of joint co-operative efforts by the Union, the Southern Illinois Builders Association and the Southern Illinois Contractors Association. Teaching personnel and equipment will be supplied by the participating organizations.

The school will provide courses of study in equipment operation and mechanics to qualified trainees for skilled jobs as Operating Engineers in the construction industry. Recruitment of students will be undertaken in co-operation with area firms and civic organizations.

The participating organizations seek to provide opportunity for development of skill and to aid in the elimination of the hard-core unemployed. Applicants will be considered for training on the basis of merit and aptitude in line with approved fair recruitment standards guaranteeing non-discriminate selection and treatment.

City Studying $187,497 Garage Proposal

Under study by Granite City council members is a $187,497 proposal for a new city street department garage to be located on a five-acre tract along the south side of 25th street immediately east of the railroad tracks.

The proposal was presented to the council Monday night by James Henderson, local realtor, who said the offer is being made by the owner of the tract, M. H. Wolfe. The M. H. Wolfe Co. would erect the 100,000-sq-ft garage building, complete with offices and restroom-shower room, ready for occupancy.

Henderson, a former alderman, pointed out the tract is the largest available in the city limits that is not being considered for subdividing or owned by industries. "It's zoned commercial, so there's no problem there," he added.

Pay Over 10 Years
Financing could be carried out by the city with a down payment of one-fourth the cost and payments over a 10-year period with 6% interest. All of the property would be fenced and the service area would be surfaced with slag.

In recent years, the city has considered buying other buildings to increase its city garage facilities to provide more space for storage of equipment and for handling the servicing of all city equipment. Under consideration was the Stolze Lumber Co. property that has been purchased by the school district for offices and storage.

Sale of the present garage at 19th and Benton street would help the city with its down payment. The property and building have been appraised at $38,000. The city at that site has been borrowing and renting sheds from the Prairie Farm Dairy, which is considered a likely purchaser.

Sell Old Fire House
Also proposed is the sale of the old fire house at Cayuga street and Rock road, which is now being used by the city painter. Space in the proposed new garage could be reserved for the painter.

Street Supt. Warfield pointed out that much of the street department equipment now stands outside overnight or when not in use.

Council members also plan to purchase a full-time mechanic to service all city equipment, which now is serviced under contract, even to oil changes and lubrication.

Ready in 90 Days
Henderson said the structure could be built and ready for occupancy within 90 days after the city signs an agreement. He added that the garage building would have a brick veneer front and would be landscaped. The offices would be completed to the point where all the city would have to do is "move in."

The five-acre tract, which extends from 25th street south to 24th street, also would give the city the right-of-way for the proposed new north-south street along the railroad tracks, it was noted.

Years ago, there was a stove factory on the property.

3 County Special Use Permits Recommended
The Madison county zoning board of appeals has recommended approval of requests for three special use permits and denial of one by Quad-City area residents. Final action is to be taken by the Madison county board of supervisors next Wednesday.

The requests approved are from: Iris LaVern Wimberly, owner, to operate a beauty shop in her home in Nankook township with a stipulation that no outdoor signs or other advertising be used in the area.

Lonnie J. Ahart Jr., owner, to operate a tavern in an R-4 single family residence district in by 1970, you may have the same time as the man in the moon.

Back in 1959, the people running our space program heard that Bulova had perfected an electronic movement that replaced the old-fashioned balance wheel with a tuning fork.
They started asking questions. Like, how accurate would it be? Is that guaranteed accuracy? And how fast could an Accutron timer be delivered?
Bulova delivered it in time for the launching of the Explorer satellites. And guaranteed it accurate within a minute a month. An average of two seconds a day.
Since then, Accutron timers have orbited the earth in Telstar, TIROS, Syncom, Pegasus and Gemini. And since then, more than half a million earth people have bought their own Accutron timepieces. Each one guaranteed every bit as accurate as those sent into space.
When Apollo goes up, an Accutron timer in the Lunar Excursion Module will go right along with it.
Then Accutron owners will have the same time as the man in the moon. Will you?

New Chairman Chosen For Graduate Program

Graduate programs in educational administration have been given new impetus at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

W. Deane Wiley, dean of the educational division, has announced that a separate faculty structure has been set up for educational administration.

Previously this program operated under the same organizational set-up as instructional materials, lumped under the title, "educational administration and services."

Both now will have separate faculty chairmen.

Eldon Madison will serve as chairman of the instructional materials faculty. For the time being Dean Wiley will serve as acting chairman of the educational administration faculty.

Reason for the separation, according to the Dean, "is to strengthen both fields."

SIU Enrollment Up by 10.6% to 7181 Total

Full quarter enrollment at Eastern Illinois University, is 7,181, an increase of 10.6% over 1967, President Quincy Douma announced today. Last year's full quarter figure was 6,491.

Enrollment records were broken for all classes except the freshman class. The largest increases came in the junior class, up 278 from last fall's 1,284, and the senior class, up 235 from 884.

Douma said the upper division and graduate school enrollment increase is in line with specific requests at Eastern by the Illinois Board of Higher Education under long term objectives of the master plan.

City to Proceed With Clean Up Of Derelict Autos

Estimated cost of as much as $300-a-month for removal of derelict autos was predicted Monday night by Granite City council members in authorizing preparation of an ordinance to pay $10 a car for removal.

The council has authorized Steve Baroff of B Auto Parts & Salvage Co. to do the work, but only with proper authority.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 32 Thurs., Oct. 10, 1968

The ordinance is to be readied for the Oct. 21 session. Alderman Boyd stressed that every effort will be made to collect the tow-away fee from the owner, and Dallas urged the program be started immediately.

Mayor Partney said three or four autos already have been towed away, and that in most instances collection of the fee has been futile.

Most Officials To Attend Meet; But Not Partney

Most elected city officials of the Quad-City area plan to attend the annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League in Peoria, which begins Saturday and continues through Tuesday, but Mayor Donald Partney of Granite City will not be among them.

The mayor said he believed he should stay in Granite City because "at least one city official should be around in case something should happen."

Partney said he had planned to attend the convention, but when "I saw the list of those who intend to go, I told them to take my name off the list."

The mayor was referring to a bill list approved by the city council in regular meeting Monday night, allowing expense payments of $175 each for 19 aldermen and city officials who turned in expense claims for convention attendance. Total cost: $3,225.

Planned To Attend

"I planned to attend the meetings," the mayor said, "but I think some official should be in the city in the event something should happen. For 19 of the city's officials to be out of the city at one time would leave the community pretty well unguarded."

The expense claims approved in the Monday night council session allows the $175 expense account to City Clerk Homer R. "Pat" Rich, Comptroller R. W. Stevens, City Atty. Richard Allen, Street-Supt. William Warfield, and Aldermen Steve Baroff, Edmund Bartosik, Clyde Boyd, William Dallas, Richard Fry, Claude Green, Emerald Johnson, Ford Johnson, Earl Jarrett, Walter Nunn, Gerald Parmley, Roy Poulos, R. E. Robertson and Samuel Whitemer.

Only Granite City aldermen not claiming the $175 expense were Paul Rutledge and Charles Moerlein.

Mayors, Lee to Attend

Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison and Mayor John E. Lee of Venice will lead delegations from their respective communities to the Municipal League convention. Madison officials who plan to attend the convention include all of the eight aldermen, City Clerk John Bellico, Comptroller E. J. Miller Street Supt. Stanley Leves, Corporation Counsel John Gitchoff, City Atty. Nick Vasilef and Treasurer Demos Nicholas.

Madison city officials are allotted $150 each for expenses, as are Venice officials.

Among those scheduled thus far to attend the convention from Venice, in addition to Mayor Lee, are City Clerk William "Mike" Ebersold, City Comptroller Carl Byrnes, City Atty. Harry Hartman and most aldermen of the eight-man city council. Byrnes said Wednesday that a complete list of those planning to attend was not yet available.

Collide in Venice

Cars driven by Ronald G. Dooley, DeSoto, Mo., and Frank Howard, St. Louis, were damaged at 11 p.m. Tuesday in a collision at Main street and Broadway. Venice police reported. Officers said Dooley was headed west on Broadway and Howard was driving north on Main street when the collision occurred. Howard was ticketed on a charge of improper lane usage. He posted his driver's license as bond pending an Oct. 23 magistrate hearing.

The Farm Fresh Milk Store, in newly remodeled quarters at 2220 Ponton Road, was opened to business today by Otis and Lorena Henson, former operators of the Farm Fresh Drive-In at 2828 Nameoki road.

The new store which features milk and milk products also will carry a line of "convenience" items including basic grocery articles and packaged luncheon meats.

Mr. and Mrs. Henson sold their former business location, the Farm Fresh Drive-In, to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henson, who now operate it. Mr. and Mrs. Henson were at the Nameoki road location ten years.

Their new business is located in the building formerly occupied by Schermer Ace Hardware store. Henson said grand opening plans for the new location will be announced later. Hours of the new business will be 10 a.m. until 10 p.m., he said.

Church Site is Annexed by GC; Weed Complaints

An ordinance to annex an .88-acre tract at National and St. Clair avenues, where the Good Shepherd EUB Church is located, was approved Monday night by Granite City council members.

The tract, it was noted, is completely surrounded by the city.

City members referred to the city attorney a notice by William Quinn, 2532A Washington avenue, that he intends to file suit against the city for injuries sustained in a fall in the 2200 block of Hodges avenue where there was a hole between the sidewalk and curb. He fell last Aug. 23.

Notice was received of an Oct. 21 return date for answer to the quo warranto suit filed by Nameoki township protesting the city's annexation of the Maryville school site.

Snakes Lurk in Weeds
A protest was made by Alderman Green, who said no effort was being made to cut weeds four to five feet high in the Briarcliff area "where people are being forced to kill snakes."

Green added that the city's eight-inch weed law should be enforced. "I think the administration is causing a bottleneck in this case. I first protested two months ago, and when I finally sent the city weed cutter out there, he was stopped."

City Inspector Jack Fricker said he advised the city employees to cut weeds only along sidewalks.

"We talk about progress," Green continued, "I know where progress is being blocked. Last year the council called for special improvements to aid the progress of the city and the items were vetoed out of the budget. Let's put the blame for lack of progress where it belongs. Somebody in this council room is blocking progress."

City Inspector Fricker said he had served notice on a property owner in the Briarcliff area that day (Monday) to cut weeds.

Green also listed several places on Illinois where weeds need to be cut, and called for the city inspector to send out notices and then follow up with arrest warrants.

Partney's Reply
Green was supported by Alderman Robertson, and they were answered by Mayor Partney that the council had hired only one person to cut weeds and he was being kept busy.

Green also asked for a progress report on condemnation started several months ago on property at 703 Twenty-sixth place and at other locations. Council members asked the mayor to invoke emergency proceedings to get the job done where necessary.

Alderman Basarich called for enforcement of the city law banning political or other signs on city property between the sidewalk and curb, saying he has seen numerous such violations.

A series of parent-child relationship sessions will start at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 16, in the Kirkpatrick Homes recreation hall center, Mrs. Betty Liddell, president of the Kirkpatrick Homes Improvement Association, announced today.

All residents of the housing project are invited to participate in the study series and discuss child behavior or other problems with discussion leaders. Dr. Raymond E. Troyer of SIU-SW, Mrs. Mary Rotes, a family services consultant with the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, and C. A. McMillan of Coordinated Youth Services.

Firemen Respond to Plant, Church Alarms

Spontaneous combustion caused a fire in the coal bin at the Jennison-Wright Corp., 22nd street and railroad tracks, at 7 a.m. Tuesday. It was out at 8:05 a.m., and the loss was undetermined.

Firemen were called Monday to the First Assembly of God Church, 24th street and Grand avenue, where a pop-off valve on the boiler released and filled the basement with steam. There was no loss.

Jr. College Vote Due Next Spring

The Quad-City area, as well as Collinsville, has been eliminated from the Lewis & Clark junior college district for which boundaries have been set by the Lewis & Clark Education Foundation.

The newly-revised district will be presented to voters in another election, probably in early spring, on the proposal to establish a junior college district in the county. Arthur Norwitz, president of the group, in pointing out that areas left out of the proposed new district will be permitted to annex to the district after it is established.

Establishment of a junior college district that included the Quad-Cities, Collinsville, and other areas was rejected by a referendum vote in April 1967. Most of the opposition vote was cast in the areas that have been left out of the newly revised area.

Major areas dropped from the proposed district include Granite City, Madison, Venice, Collinsville, Highland and the Triad school district. The proposed new district would include school districts in Alton, East Alton, Roxana, Wood River, Calhoun county and Hardin area districts, Worden, Livingston, Bunker Hill, Staunton and Edwardsville.

Major Phone Co. Role In Manned Space Flight

Southwestern Bell will prove again tomorrow that it's more than just a "telephone company."

That's when it will help provide vital support for the long-awaited Apollo Seven manned space flight — more than just supplying the telephone lines for the nation's TV and press reporting on another historic step in man's quest to reach the moon.

The Bell System has designed and engineered for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) an intricate, high-speed communications network which will link the space controllers at Houston, Tex., with the Apollo Seven spacecraft the instant the Saturn rocket lifts the capsule spacecraft into orbit. The Bell System's vast communications network will play a major role in switching the control of the spacecraft over to NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, 900 miles away, in split seconds," said Roger Ward, unit manager for Southwestern Bell in Granite City.

The change in command is handled electronically, over a broad communications "expresway" called the Apollo Launch Data System, making it possible for NASA to control every phase of the space mission from Houston.

All Forms of Communications. "This vast tracking network involves every known type of electrical communications — voice, data, video, telemetry, telephoto and teletypewriter," Ward said.

Functions handled over the complex communications network include checking out the spacecraft; controlling the launching; directing the boost-engine as it lifts the astronauts into orbit; and maintaining command and control of the entire mission, from lift-off to touch-down.

"Because the hub of the communications network is at Houston, Southwestern Bell plays a major role in establishing the services needed by NASA," said Ward.

"Such services include video, program, temporary private lines and long-distance circuits — as well as supplying engineer know-how in coordinating the network," he added.

High-Speed Data Used

From Cape Kennedy and 18 tracking stations, critical information needed for Apollo mission control is funneled into seven Houston computers over high-speed data channels that can handle tens of thousands of bits of information each second.

Ward said computers at Houston use the data to make constant flight contingency recommendations, predict flight paths, determine time to start re-entry and forecast the Apollo capsule's impact point.

The Apollo Launch Data System also provides closed circuit television channels for face-to-face contact between flight controllers at Houston and back-up teams at the Cape Kennedy Space Center.

In addition to the giant and complex communications network provided for NASA's scientists and engineers, Ward said, Southwestern Bell is also providing communications facilities for 500 to 700 visiting newsmen who will be covering the event.

This includes specially-installed circuits for the foreign press, including Radio France and Radio Italy as well as science reporters from Berlin and Tokyo.

Wire photo services in the U.S., meanwhile, will also be adding something new to the press, including Radio France and Radio Italy as well as science reporters from Berlin and Tokyo.

Auto Struck after Stop

After making a stop sign, an auto driven by Wanda Kutzera, 2909 Fortune drive, pulled off Faith avenue onto Namahole road and was struck in the left front by a car driven by Charles Brewer, 2429 Delmar avenue, on Monday.

Special video circuits have been installed by Southwestern Bell to provide this unique, up-to-the-minute coverage by the nation's press.

Local NARCE Chapter To Hear State Officer

Sidney Harris of Belleville, vice-president of the Illinois State Federation of Retired Civil Service Employees, will address members of the Granite City Chapter of the National Association of Retired Civil Employees at 2 p.m. Monday in the La Granda Room of the Granite City Army Depot Officers Club.

Edward Erney, local president, said monthly meetings are being resumed and that the state official plans to furnish current data on state and national programs of concern to retired civil service employees.

Erney urged local NARCE members "to make a special effort to increase club membership by bringing a prospective member to Monday's meeting." The Granite City Chapter for this area has 29 members.

Erney said that whether the husband or wife is a retired civil service employee, both are eligible to join. Meetings will continue to be held on the second Monday of each month, he added.

Coffee and cake will be served.

Hospital Room Rates to Be Increased $4 to $7

Room rate increases of $4 to $7 per day at St. Elizabeth Hospital will go into effect on Nov. 1, hospital authorities announced today.

Rates charged patients will range from $32, a hike of $4.50, for 21 units in pediatric wards, to $42 for five private units in the new wing, an increase of $3.50. Semi-private rooms will be $38 per day in 126 units in the new wing and $36 for 60 units in the old wing, both up $6, while the rate for three-to-four bed wards will be $34, up $4.

The rate schedule has been approved by the hospital's governing board and was sanctioned by its lay advisory board at a meeting Monday afternoon.

A hospital spokesman said the increases were necessary, particularly because of the installation of the new wing. "We cannot get a loan in the present market without a good financial statement," he remarked.

Other reasons presented were general increased costs of operations, including scheduled salary raises.

The last room rate hike at the local hospital was made in November last year.

The new rate structure will place St. Elizabeth in the middle of the rate range of hospitals in the metropolitan area, the spokesman said.

Rates in St. Louis hospitals average $42 for a semi-private room and $38 to $42 for private rooms, while Bellevue's rates range from $34 to $36, with increases due on Jan. 1 to $39.

Some St. Louis hospitals increased rates on Oct. 1 and others are to follow suit on Jan. 1.

There will be no change in rates for the hospital's eight intensive care units, which will remain at $65 to $85, while a new isolation charge of $7 for the first day and $4 per day thereafter will be added to the regular rates.

Less than one per cent of the patients are placed in isolation, but the additional charge is to be assessed as staff members must take extra precautions to prevent them from entering an isolation room.

The largest increase of $7 places the cost of a private room in the old wing without bath at $38 in 14 units, in the new wing without bath at $39.

Ill. Power Outlines Air Control Program

Illinois Power Company's program for controlling emissions at its power plants, approved by the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, calls for equipment purchases of more than $11 million over a six-year period and the use of natural gas as fuel instead of coal when practical.

The utility set forth the program under terms of the Air Pollution Control Act adopted in 1955.

The use of gas as fuel instead of coal at two of the utility's four major power plants marked the beginning of the program this summer. Gas was used in three of the five boilers at the Wood River plant during the summer months, and will continue to be used through October, the company said.

The other two units have mechanical precipitators collecting ash. At the company's Hennepin plant, about 30% of the generation this summer will be fired by natural gas rather than coal. Gas does not emit particulate matter when burned.

Beyond this summer, the Decatur-based utility gained approval of the following schedule:

In 1970, the first unit at the company's fifth power plant, now under construction in southern Illinois, is scheduled to go into service. It will be equipped with an electrostatic precipitator which collects approximately 99% of the particulate matter. Also, in 1970, an electrostatic precipitator will be installed at the number five unit at Hennepin. Natural gas will be used as fuel for the number one unit to the extent required to bring it into compliance with state standards.

At the Vermilion plant west of Danville, Ill., precipitators will be installed on both units in 1973 and 1974.

Also, beginning in 1974, units one through four at Wood River will be equipped with precipitators or will be fired by natural gas instead of coal year around.

The Havana power plant, which was put into operation in 1947 and is the company's oldest generating station, will be operated for peaking purposes from 1969 to 1976, at progressively lower output. In 1976, it is expected that the present units will be placed on standby.

In 1968, new measures for controlling emissions will be adopted or the present units will be retired.

Illinois Power Co. is an investor-owned, electric and natural gas utility serving a 15,000 square mile area of Illinois. It has 300 employees, more than 400,000 electric customers and 300,000 natural gas customers.

Dr. Benjamin Berman will speak tonight on the topic "Help for Young Hearts" at 8 o'clock for the second series of health talks sponsored by St. Elizabeth Hospital, which will be held at the Tri-Coe Center.

The public is invited to attend these monthly meetings, intended as a community service in health field.

The topic will be a case history of a teenage girl with rheumatic heart disease, preparing for a job interview. The story emphasizes the importance of the prevention of recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever.

Salary Uptrend Factor in School Tax Referendum

Proposed construction of new Granite City public schools, to be decided in a Dec. 7 special election, involves an increase of about 25 cents per $100 assessment in the building fund tax rate. An even larger increase, 40 cents, is proposed in the education fund rate.

If a new education rate maximum is authorized by voters in the referendum, the ceiling will rise from the present $2.15 to $2.55.

Principal factor in the planned education rate boost is the prospect of higher salaries. Another aspect is increased operating costs due to the projected opening of additional classrooms.

The proposed new education rate ceiling of $2.55 on each $100 assessed valuation would not be reached in the present tax year.

$2.70 School Tax Rate
The present overall Granite City school tax rate of $2.70 consists of $1.95 for education, 27.57 cents basic building fund, 22.5 cents bonds and interest, 6.55 cents transportation, 6.93 cents municipal retirement and 0.75 cent junior college tuition.

Estimated tax rate to be announced next spring for use in determining tax bills for collection in the summer of 1969 (assuming an assessment of $215 million) totals $3.028.

This would include a $2.15 education rate (the present authorized maximum), 33.63 cents building fund, 31.92 cents bonds and interest, 6.90 cents transportation, 7.89 cents municipal retirement, 0.49 cent junior college and 4.99 cents working cash fund.

Again assuming $215 million assessment — the actual figure has not yet been determined — a successful tax referendum Dec. 7 would permit a $2.319 education fund rate instead of the projected $2.15, based on the 1968-69 budget and levy adopted on Aug. 28.

$212 Million Valuation
Assessment now is $212,173,946. To fully support the new budget, the valuation of taxable real estate and personal property in the school district would have to rise $19,732,751, and that large a gain is not anticipated.

If a higher rate fails to obtain approval, some borrowing may occur near the end of the 1968-69 fiscal year next June. Supt. Bob J. Davis has pointed out to the school board that "until this year, we have not utilized the entire authorized education fund rate of $2.15."

Pay Increments, Equipment
"However, with the increased cost brought on by salary increments, additional staff, increased need for equipment and supplies and the rising costs of supplies and equipment items, the money needed to support this fund on the accrual accounting basis will exceed the $2.15 by an estimated 16 cents.

"While the full effect of the indicated shortage in this fund will not be felt until the 1969-70 year (tax collection period on the 1968 levy), our only source for the additional cash needed in the 1969-70 year would be from issuance of tax anticipation warrants.

"The total borrowing needed in this period would be a combination of the shortage in tax levy in the 1968 year plus the potential increased cost of the 1969-70 year.

School Aid May Rise
"This deficit could possibly be partially offset by an increase in the state aid formula; any increase here is, of course, dependent upon the action of the state legislature.

"This district has not issued anticipation warrants since 1963," it was noted by Supt. Davis.

"This means that not only has the public been spared the interest payments on such warrants but, in fact, the public has earned $257,606 in interest on short-term investments during this period.

"Such short-term investments have been possible since tax monies are normally collected early in the fiscal year for use during the entire year. Cash not required for immediate expenses has provided the source for funds invested.

Interest Cuts Tax Need

"Interest earned in this manner has been utilized for current expense, thereby reducing the amount of tax levy required for such purposes.

"The interest that has been earned has, in effect, reduced the total tax levy in past years by an approximate grand total of 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

"Deficit financing by issuance of anticipation warrants would not only mean additional expense to the district for interest payments, but would also restrict or eliminate the district's ability to earn interest.

More Pupils, Staff, Supplies

"Because of increased staff resultant from increased enrollments, increased supply costs resultant from general price increases, overall expenditures for the 1968-69 educational fund budget increased by $1,055,626 above the 1967-68 year.

"There is little or no reason to believe that cost increases for the 1969-70 year will be any less than such sum.

"Because of the above mentioned reasons, a 40-cent increase in the education fund rate limit is highly recommended."

McKinley Bridge Revenue Dropped 18.6% Last Year

Revenue from vehicular tolls on McKinley bridge during the 1967-68 fiscal year that ended Sept. 30 dropped 18.6% below that of the 1966-67 year, while traffic for the same period declined 2.5%.

Henry McMullen has reported to members of the Venice city council.

McMullen said that daily average traffic across McKinley bridge during the 1967-68 year was 10,770 vehicles, compared to a daily average of 13,670 during the previous year.

The bridge manager also presented a traffic report for the month of September, showing average daily traffic of 984 vehicles during the month.

September traffic included 65,638 vehicles the first week, 69,479 the second week, 68,445 the third week, 68,641 the fourth week and 16,842 during the last two days of the month.

Receive Tax Funds
Bernard Anderson, city treasurer, has reported the city received $328,242 in corporate taxes last month in a distribution of 1967 tax monies.

Collector Frank Reidelberger Jr. The revenue brought the city's total available funds to $241,072 for September.

Of this amount, he reported, $200,000 was invested in 90-day saving certificates which will draw interest for the three-month period and thereafter until the city needs to draw against the fund for operating expenses.

Disbursements during September totaled $30,212, leaving the city a cash balance of $110,859 as of Oct. 1, Anderson reported.

Chief of Police John Essington reported that the police department is continuing its drive against junk autos found abandoned in city streets or alleys and on vacant lots.

Essington also reported 72 arrests during August, resulting in payment to the city of $460 in fines assessed in court cases.

He said 33 defendants were arrested on traffic charges and 26 were arrested for violation of various city ordinances.

Five were held for investigation, three were released without charges, two were arrested on mittimus, one was arrested as a mental case, one on a state warrant and one for a coroner's inquest.

Cong. Price Endorsed, Commended By Groups
A dental organization has endorsed Cong. Melvin Price for re-election Nov. 5. The Legislative Action Committee of Illinois Dentists, a bipartisan political action committee, gave him a strong endorsement because of legislative efforts in the field of dental health.

In a related development, the American Veterinary Medical Association commended Price for his "many efforts in behalf of legislation beneficial to veterinary officers of the armed forces," particularly his work on the Health Services Career Incentives Act.

Co-sponsored by the ranking House Armed Services Committee member, the law provides comparable benefits for veterinary officers as afforded other armed services medical personnel.

Price's efforts to have the Lewis and Clark Trail developed as a national trail have moved a step closer to realization with President Johnson signing enabling legislation co-sponsored by the local Democrat, it was noted this week.

"The enactment of this legislation," Price said, "means that the Wood River area is now the designated eastern terminus of the trail." The authorized trail, he continued, "now squares with the history of the exciting Lewis and Clark expedition."

"I envision the development of our area as a tourist center as a result of this Congressional action. It will help us realize our full potential at the same time we conserve and develop valuable recreation resources."

Stearns Park being Named For Business, Civic Leader

The formal dedication of George Stearns Park, located at Johnson road and Ames avenue, will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday with local dignitaries and area residents attending.

The parcel of land was originally donated to the Maryland Community Center for the purpose of a playground for children in the Nameoki area, prior to Nameoki village being annexed into Granite City.

Harry Murdock presented the ground for use as a playground, and it later was willed to George Stearns. The tract later was turned over to the Granite City park district, the district maintains grounds and equipment placed there for the children.

The park area is being named for local civic and business leader, George Stearns, who began work with Maryland Real Estate and Insurance Co. in 1927 as office manager and became the owner in 1945, upon the death of Mr. Murdock.

Born in Clayton, Iowa, on Sept. 21, 1895, Stearns is a graduate of Clayton high school, Bayless Business College in Dubuque, Iowa and St. Louis University School of Commerce and Finance. His first job was as railroad clerk from 1912 to 1917 before leaving for service in world war I.

President of the former Nameoki Transit Bus lines, later known as Community Coach Co., he also has held public offices which included Nameoki Township town clerk for 16 years, and president of the Nameoki grade school board for 13 years. He has been a member of the Salvation Army Board and is a past president of the local Real Estate Board.

Fraternal organizations in which he has served as an officer include Past Master of the Masonic Triple Lodge 835, Past Patron of New Hope Chapter, Order of Eastern Star; Past Watchman of Shepherds of Gabriel Shrine 78 Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem. He is a 32nd Degree Mason and a Shriner.

Other organizations of which he is a member are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and World War I Madison Barracks 34.

Mr. Stearns and his wife, Carolyn, reside at 2115 Ames avenue and are the parents of two children, a son, Charles P. Stearns, who now lives in Houston, Tex., and a daughter, Mrs. Luther (Grace) Du Nard of Detroit, Mich. They also have four grandchildren.

A granddaughter, Carolyn Du Nard, a junior student at William Woods College, has spent the past two summers with them.

Now totally blind, Mr. Stearns has been retired for the past two years.
